

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Trinity Social Hour — Fridays @ 4 PM

Join other members of the family in an informal Zoom conversation. It goes without saying, “Bring Your Own Beverage”! This is the invitation link: <https://zoom.us/j/822684505>.

This is now set up as a recurring weekly event, running through the end of May.

Sunday Forum — Sunday @ 9 AM (on-line)

Normally, our weekly adult forum meets in Brooks Hall between our morning services, offering a time of fellowship, as well as a chance to exchange information or engage in deeper reflection.

We had a schedule of topics planned. For obvious reasons, the schedule has fallen apart. Please join us on Zoom this Sunday at 9 am. The invitation link is: <https://zoom.us/j/822257246>. This is also set up as a recurring weekly event, running through the last Sunday before Pentecost, May 24.

We’ll have at least a few moments this Sunday to review what’s been happening and begin to clarify some plans ahead. Maybe even talk about HOLY WEEK and EASTER!

Holy Eucharist — Sunday @ 10 AM (Note the new time AND the on line locations!)

We’re streaming our Sunday worship again this week, using both YouTube and Facebook, so please log in to the one you are most familiar with.

YouTube

In spite of some technical issues on our end with YouTube last weekend, we’ll try it again. Thanks for your patience. Here’s the YouTube link: <https://youtu.be/ir95TeAoB9o>. You just need to click on the link at 10 am on Sunday to join us live. (If nothing happens, the problem is likely on our end.)

Facebook

We’re also planning to go live on Facebook. If you’re already “friends” with Jed Holdorph, you should easily connect on his page for the live feed. Once it starts, you should be able to make it a “watch party” and let all your friends join us, as well. (This worked well last week for most folks.)

For those on Facebook, we’ve also announced the live stream on both the Trinity “page” and our “group.” The group works a little differently than a page, facilitating ways to interact with other members of Trinity. Consider joining us @ <https://www.facebook.com/groups/1058566457549205>.

Book of Common Prayer

It might also be helpful if you find your Prayer Book. During the coming weeks, our worship will follow Rite II liturgies, with some seasonal variations (and accommodations for our inability to be physically together).

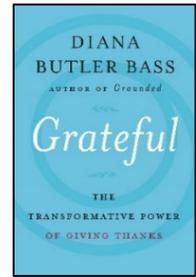

You’re welcome to print out the whole liturgy for this coming week, but maybe you could use a Prayer Book and follow along the old-fashioned way.

Liturgy of the Word	BCP, p. 355
Prayers of the People, Form IV	BCP, p. 388
The Holy Communion, Eucharistic Prayer C	BCP, p. 369

Thursdays at Trinity — Thursday @ 6 PM

Our “Thursdays at Trinity” series is another casualty of the restrictions in place to help slow the spread of COVID-19. We haven’t been able to gather around either the liturgical table or the soup and bread tables, but we have continued the book group portion online as another Zoom meeting.

Here’s the invitation link: <https://zoom.us/j/767211716>.

This week, we wrap up the discussion, reading chapters 7-8, and the Epilogue (pp. 135-197).

Episcopal Relief and Development (ERD) 2020 Lenten Campaign

Lent is a time to reflect on Jesus’ call to care for those in need and to commit ourselves to live compassionate lives that uphold the dignity of every human being. Our alms offer thanks for God’s blessings and hope for others.

Lent Madness and the Round of the “Elate Eight”

For those who follow college basketball, “March Madness” is now replaced by “March Sadness.” But “Lent Madness” carries on ... as if made for these times of staying home with our computers and tablets. “Lent Madness” is entering the round of the “Elate Eight” – things are getting really interesting (and/or weird!).

More information at www.lentmadness.org.

Let’s stay connected!

Coming together to worship each Sunday will be different for the next several weeks. Not being able to greet each other, share the Peace, share coffee and conversation after services are just a few of the things that keep us in community that we will miss.

If you received the weekly email from Trinity (this week, the almost daily email) mention it to your friends. Not everyone is aware of this particular line of communication with Trinity. An email to Jan @ jan@trinitybend.org is all it takes to be added to the list!

Keeping Holy Week

As an aid to everyone’s observance of Holy Week, we will have a link on our webpage to Keeping Holy Week so that you can read and refer to it at home. We invite you to review it during the holiest of days ahead.

Use this link: <https://trinitybend.org/wp-content/uploads/Keeping-Holy-Week-@-Trinity.pdf>.

And yet Holy Week will NOT be the same this year. All public worship and other gatherings are suspended for at least seven weeks, likely until Pentecost (or beyond). We’ll continue to review options, but it’s likely we won’t get gathering in-person for all of May.
