This morning, we’ll have some “show and tell” time with delegates from Trinity to this weekend’s Diocesan Convention. And since everyone can participate this year, maybe we’ll hear reactions from many others, as well.

Next Sunday, as part of our annual stewardship appeal, we’ll offer a review of this year’s series of announcements, drawing attention to the themes of “Yesterday ... Today ... and Tomorrow.” We’ll also get an update on the current state of our parish finances.

The 50th Annual Diocesan Convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Eastern Oregon (On-Line)

This year’s Diocesan Convention will be held virtually. Something is lost, but something else is gained. We lose the time and space that an annual gathering affords for the wider community to be together for fellowship and worship.

But we gain a unique opportunity for the WHOLE Diocese to participate this year. Everyone can hear Bishop Patrick’s address to the convention, take part in workshops that affect us all and worship together, virtually, on Saturday and Sunday.

The Bishop’s Convention Address

Bishop Patrick has pre-recorded his Convention Address this year. Click on the link below to view his message to the diocese.

For an election:

Almighty God, to whom we must account for all our powers and privileges: Guide the people of the United States in the election of officials and representatives; that, by faithful administration and wise laws, the rights of all may be protected and our nation be enabled to fulfill your purposes; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
